Corbett Writes a Letter to Pitzsim

New York, Sept. 28-The following dispatch was received by the World from John L. Sullivan relative to Pitasiramons' challenge to Corbett:

He wants me to meet Steve O'Don-nell, eh?. Let O'Donnell whip Maher or Hall or somebody I have done, then I will fight him. I shall put my fist in Corbett's face yet."

Portland, Maine, Sept. 28, 1894.-Robert Fitzsimmons—Dear Sir.—I have read in the morning papers your very amusing challenge to me. You say the

of these men have been defeated by Joe Goddard, of Australia, a second-class heavyweight. "No one knews this better than you. I suppose you think the public will say you're a very brave man to challenge me and fisht me. Why shouldn't you do so. It is just like buying a lottery ticket to win five thousand dollars forme. All you have to lose is one dollar, and it is the same case in fighting me. If I defeated you, of course you would say. "He ought to beat me. I am only a smittlewight.' Just as when, as I beat Sullivan, it was said, he was an old man, and Mitchell, he was a light fellow, he was too small. Now, Mr. Fitz-simmons, if you really in your heart want to fight for the championship of the world, you certainly, if you are on the level, want to prove yourself a champion heavyweight and not a middleweight. All you have to do in the world to fight me for the championship is to prove to me and the world that you are capable of defeating any heavyweight outside of me.

"You say I promised to give you as match if you defated Choynsid or Creedon. When you say that you know you lee. I never even noticed you, and do if intend to unless you prove you are capable of defeating any heavyweight outside of me.

"You say I promised to give you as match if you defated Choynsid or Creedon. When you say that you know you lee. I never even noticed you, and do if intend to jump over the heads of all these other people and take the dying pariner, an undefeated mar, has $19,000 to say that he can defeat you. He will box you from the Oyum, the condition of the care is considerably chance with me, but I will fool you. Steve O'Donnell, in y present sparting pariner, an undefeated mar, has $19,000 to say that he can defeat you. He will box you from the Oyum, the condition of the care is considered there that the car's it is on the condition of the care is considerably chance with me, the only way you can ever get me to make a match with you, for there is no power on earth that will make me notice you until you have defeated Steve O'Donnell, and any further talk Steve O'Donnell, and any further talk from you I will consider simply a bluff.

"I put myself on record in black and white, that if you defeat O'Donnell, I will fight you for the championship of the world and all the money you like. This is positively my ultimatum.

"Yours truly,

"JAMES J. CORBETT,

"Champion of the World."

Carroll brought Fitz out here and knows all about his methods. It is an old trick, one frequently used in Australia, and I have been cautioned myself about using it. Well, may be they do, but I have never beard from them as yet. You put $10,000 in the Olympic's hands—why don't you put it up in some newspaper office, or some place where a man can see it, or is the Olympic club backing you?

"However, that's neither here nor there. I suppose you are afraid if you put the money up in any other place besides the Olympic club some one else might cover it. It is not necessary for me to give a reply to your challenge, because you are well aware that I will not accept it, unless you prove yourself a champion heavyweight and not a middleweight. I must acknowledge that as a middleweight you have no equal, but all you ever did in the heavyweight class was to defeat Peter Maher and Joe Choyneki, two secondenss neavyweights; since which both of these men have been defeated by Joe Goddard, of Australia, a secondulas heavyweight is just they buying a lottery ticket to win five thousand dollars for one. being made would by no means state the completion of the system. The trench is now open six blocks ahead of the concrete gangs, but in several places it is incompleted. This is especially the case with the block opposite the university on the west, where the cut is but 14 feet deep, instead of 22. The contractors claim to have ordered a bucket machine for this work and the machine has not arrived on the ground. When asked for an opinion, Engineer Young said that if the work was to be pressed, there was but one course open to the board, and that was to throw the entire line open to the contractors and allow them to put on all the excavators possible. This would give the contractors an opportunity of putting their entire forces to work, and would be the only way of insuring the completion of the system, which could be effected should the good weather continue. Mr. Marshall objected to the opening up of the trench to the joint city and county building, for would of necessity have to be discontinued before it reached State street on account of the weather. This would leave the trench open for several months, greatly to the inconvenience of the public. Then, again, there would be the Hability of accidents. The other members of the board took the same position and were greatly opposed to converting the streets along the line of the sewer into great mud banks, with the trench in between, to remain in such condition all winter. Chairman Doremus said he saw no possibility of the contractors completing the work within the specified time, for in four months of the very best part of the year they had completed but $,000 feet of the necessary 17,000 feet. Even should the city take it off their hands, there was a strong possibility that the recold weather would arrive before the work was completed. The city is greatly in need of the sewer, he said, and some action should be taken at once by the board. The gentleman suggested that the board request the city council to appoint a conference committee for the purpose of consulting on the matter, and that the mayor be asked to join in the consultation. This suggestion was adopted and the council will be asked to take some action at its next meeting.
